Episcopal National Convention.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, October 28, 1868.

The Episcopal Convention, to-day, concurred with House of Bishops, fixing on Thursday evening for an adjournment sine die.

Rev. Dr. Haight, from the Committee on Canons, submitted a report nonconcurring with the Bishops repeal of the proviso in Canon 10, section 1, title 1, requiring ministers to reside in this country one year on probation before taking charge of a church or parish, which was adopted.

The same gentleman also reported it inexpedient to enact a Canon requiring the diocese to elect Standing Committees equally from the clergy and laity.

Mr. S. B. Ruggles introduced a series of resolutions on the subject of ritualism, which were not entertained under the rule prohibiting the introduction of new business.

Mr. Welch then called up the order of the day on the indefinite postponement of the majority and minority reports on ritualism. The subject was debated until recess.

On reassembling at two o'clock, a message was received from the House of Bishops concurring with the Deputies on continuing the Joint Committee of both houses on the Russo-Greek Church.

The debate on ritualism was continued at length. A motion to postpone it indefinitely was withdrawn. At three o'clock a vote was taken on a substitute offered by Mr. Van Deusen, which was rejected.

After further discussion, a substitute was offered by Dr. Littlejohn, as follows, which was adopted by a large majority:

Resolved, That the House of Bishops be requested to set forth the consideration for adoption by the next General Convention, such rubrics in the Book of Common Prayer as in their judgment may be deemed necessary.

Resolved, That meanwhile, in all matters doubtful, reference should be made to the Ordinary, and no changes should be made against the Godly counsel and judgment of the Bishops.

Resolved, That copies of the reports of the majority and minority of the Committee on Canons be transmitted to the House of Bishops.

Adjourned.

RITUALISTIC.

The expected debate on Ritualism began yesterday afternoon in the session of the Protestant Episcopal Convention, and was very animated and interesting, but was not concluded at the hour of adjournment in the evening, and will be continued this morning. THE ROSENBURY CASE.

In the case of Rosenbury, charged with with naturalization frauds, the evidence was concluded today. A summing up was waived by both sides and the case was adjourned for decision till Saturday morning in the United States Court.

EXTENSIVE FRAUDS.

A series of extensive frauds on the part of the carmen of New York, which has been in progress for the past two years, have come to light. The modus operandi has been to obtain cases of goods for transportation to other parts of the country, chiefly to the South, and take them to fence shops, where they were opened and the contents replaced by something of small value, after which they were taken to the transportation lines, and receipts were obtained for the boxes as if they were original packages. Three men named Michael Feeny, John and Augustus McKee have been arrested, and one of them confessed to having been concerned in the robberies, amounting to $10,000.

CHARGE OF JUDGE BLATCHFORD.

To-day Judge Blatchford charged the Grand Jury in reference to naturalization frauds, saying the matter was one of grave importance and clearly punishable under the statute of 1813. It was clear from the legislation of Congress that the obtainment of naturalization papers for persons not entitled to them or the delivery of them to such persons for such use was a crime punishable by fine and imprisonment. The Grand Jury were instructed to indict all parties whom evidence showed were guilty of a violation of these laws.

Mass Meeting of Boys in Blue.

BOSTON, October 28.—A mass meeting of the Boys in Blue was held at Faneuil Hall this afternoon, preliminary to the grand torchlight procession this evening. The hall was well filled. Gen. Horace B. Sargeant presided. Among the speakers were Gov. Harriman, of New Hampshire, N. P. Banks, B. F. Butler, Capt. Churchill, late of the navy, and General Sargeant. Resolutions were adopted pledging the soldiers and sailors of Massachusetts to the cause of the Union, Liberty and Equality.

The Republican organizations of Massachusetts, and Northern New England, appeared in a grand torchlight procession this evening. Owing to the inclemency of the weather, many citizen clubs and organizations of Boys in Blue did not appear, but there was enough to make a magnificent display. Special trains from all parts of Massachusetts, and from Portland, Me., and Nashua, N. H., brought a vast concourse of people, aside from the organizations that joined the parade. The stores, hotels and private dwellings all along the route were brilliantly illuminated with fireworks and decorated with flags and transparencies. The magnificence of the illumination in front of the Soldiers' Home in Wooster Square, surpassed discription, as also did the decorations along Tremont and Chester streets. About nine thousand persons formed in the procession which was an hour and a half passing a given point. It was divided into eight divisions, commanded by by Gen. F. A. Osborne. A regiment of colored Republicans marched in the third division displaying a transparency with the words, "We were chattels in 1860, we are men in 1868." They were freely cheered everywhere. The procession broke up at half past eleven, having marched seven miles in three hours.

THE LOST CAUSE.

DEMAGOGISM OF HORATIO SEYMOUR.

The "Blast" that is to Turn Allegheny County Democratic and Carry the State for Seymour and Blair—"in a Horn."

Governor Horatio Seymour, of New York, Democratic candidate for defeat next Tuesday, arrived in this city yesterday morning and took up his quarters at the St. Charles Hotel, where he was called upon during the day by a large number of citizens who were anxious to pay their respects. The distinguished gentleman cordially received those who called, but carefully avoided talking on political matters, unless the subject was intruded by officious visitors. He was evidently suffering from fatigue and had quite a bad cold. Douglas like he may pass away when overwhelmed with the defeat which certainly awaits him, for his rugged health appears to be breaking before the wearisome work he has lately engaged in, all the more tiresome since he is heavy at heart and despondent. Last night he spoke at the Allegheny Diamond before quite a large audience of Republicans and Democrats, most of whom were drawn together through curiosity to see and hear the man who will receive a respectable minority of the votes of the people of this great country for the first and highest office within their gift. The Democratic, Jackson and Seymour Clubs were out in full force, probably six hundred persons being in the ranks, and presented a very fair appearance. The meeting in Allegheny was organized by calling Hon. Edgar A. Cowan, of Greensburg, to the Chair. He briefly returned his thanks for the honor conferred, and introduced the speaker of the occasion, who proceeded to address the meeting as follows:

GOV. SEYMOUR'S ADDRESS.

MY FRIENDS: This is my first visit to the city of Pittsburgh. I have known much of your city from its history. I had faint and general ideas of its aspect. I knew it to be one of the most prosperous cities of the Union. But as I have come here over the great plains and prairies of the Western States, I was astonished at its resources; I was struck with its position upon this noble river, and I stand before you to-night with new conceptions of the importance of this part of the country. I come here to-night, in a spirit I trust of earnest patriotism, to discuss the great questions which concern the American people. I say that I was a stranger to your city. I know but little of its business interests.

I am not familiar with the peculiar business interest in which you are engaged, but yet I venture to say that this is true, that your manufacturers find themselves perplexed with regard to the future conduct of their business. I venture to say that the laboring men of this city find themselves burdened by heavy taxation; I venture to say that here, as in other portions of our land, there is a great degree of uncertainty which checks the prosperity which you would otherwise enjoy.

[Here the crowd became so dense about the platform that the speaker was forced to desist, his voice being unable to rise above the noise and confusion. He retired and Francis Keenan, Esq., took the stand and briefly addressed the audience. He said the great trouble is, that the Democratic party down here is too large, but if you will wait a few moments I will address you in the meantime until Governor Seymour has relieved his voice so that he can speak to you. This speaker continued at some length, but was broken by the audience crying for Seymour, who again made his appearance to address the audience.]

I wish I had the voice to speak to you to-night, for there is much which I wish to say. I intended to address myself on this occasion to the business men of Pittsburgh. I think there are some evils in the conduct of our Government which concern them. I think the prosperity of your great city is retarded by the maladministration of public affairs. [Cheers.] Let me say one word to those laboring men within the sound of my voice. [A cry: "They all want to see you."] What is the meaning of this taxation which rests on you? If there was no such thing as direct or indirect taxation, six hours of toil would give to a man as good support as he now obtains from ten hours toil. I believe it would give him a better support. Remember that you pay the Government more on the price which you pay for every article which you buy than you hand directly to the tax gatherer. Remember that before you give your family their food and clothing you are heavily taxed on the price which you pay for all these articles. Do not forget this in considering the effects of heavy taxation upon you. Now, suppose the mechanics of Pittsburgh paid no taxes; suppose they bought all things at first cost and relieved you from any kind of taxation on the part of your Government, when you had worked six hours you could throw down your sledge, your hammer, your saw, and say, now will we go home, or if we wish to prolong our toil, we will lay up an accumulation of what we earn for a future day. But when you are ready to go, a man comes up, and laying his hand upon your shoulder, says stop, you are bound to support your Government. That is true. You ought to go back then and work I think one hour and no more than one hour to pay your share of taxation. You then prepare to leave the workshop again, but you are called back and told that you ought to pay your share of the public debt. That is true. You ought to do so. And so you go back and work cheerfully for two hours beyond the time that it is necessary to work to support yourself for these objects. You will then say, having toiled for eight hours, I will now go home to my family. I will enjoy their society. I will improve my mind. I will pass my time as my interest or my pleasure dictates, but the official returns again to say "no, you must work two hours a day more, because under this government there are sixty thousand officials to be supported." The records show you that that is true. You must work two hours a day more because those who control affairs at Washington have seen fit to give the South not their ancient government, but a government of armies which you must support. You mechanics of Pittsburgh must continue your hours of toil to carry on a policy which is unjust and unconstitutional. (Cheers.) Remember, men who hear me, that the injustice of this policy does not alone fall on the poor and impoverished South. It falls on you. Study it out. It may come in subtle forms. But, I tell you, it is this unwise and unreasonable taxation which is the result of the policy of your rulers that lengthens out your hours of toil. You remember the time was when you did not know a Government officer, unless perhaps it was a postmaster. Now they surround you wherever you go. They find you out in every corner of the land. The structure of our Government has been changed by the oppressive system of taxation, growing out of the wanton waste of public money, and springing from the disregard of constitutional obligations. You want your employer to prosper; you want the manufacture of iron and glass to be carried on with such success that there may be demand and competition for labor. I appeal to employers, if any are here to-night, although they may differ from me in political opinions. What is that which disturbs you on your business pursuits? You want certainty of legislation. Has there been certainty of legislation in regard to tariffs? Has there been certainty of legislation with regard to currency? Have you the markets which you once had? Does not every intelligent manufacturer of this thriving city know that for the last two or three years he has been constantly perplexed in his business affairs, and in his calculations as to what he can do in the future, by the uncertainty of the action of the party in power? I never met a manufacturer, whatever his political views might be, who was satisfied with the conduct of the men in power. What are you called upon to do in this election? If you vote the Republican ticket you say their policy has been right. You encourage them to go on. They will point to the result of that election as proof that the public is with them. How is it with you, laboring men? How is it with you employers and enterprising manufacturers of this city? If you see fit to elect the Republican candidate you say that policy has been right. I appeal to you in view of your own interest whether you can afford to say that this country has been wisely and well governed during the past four years. (Cries "No, no.") Now the evil in this country is that its burdens are not put on equally. Another evil in this election is that the public mind has been turned away from the great questions which should concern it. When we wish to talk with Republican friends about our own business interests of the North, they refuse to listen to us and attempt to direct the attention of the people to what they allege to be disorder and violence at the South. Read a Republican paper; its columns are filled with the charge that life is unsafe at the South. Why is this? When they put forth their resolutions in their Convention, they congratulated you that reconstruction was a success I will tell you that when you go to the city of New York on just such an evening as this, with the moon shining brightly in the heavens, and walk down Broadway, its principal street, you will sometimes find a man there with a telescope, who proposes to give you a view through it of that distant orb. When you look at it, when you see it swinging through space, when you mark the wonders of its surface, your thoughts are lifted up from this world, and you are engaged in lofty contemplation. You will generally find afterwards that your pocket has been picked. (Laughter.) These men know when they want to do a wrong that they must occupy your minds with some distant subject so that you will be attracted from the care of others on your person. I do not stand here to compare our Republican friends with criminals, they have equal earnestness and as large a share of virtue, of intelligence and of patriotism as we have. But I complain that they are forced at this time to turn away public attention from home interests in order to prevent the American people from sitting in calm judgment in their conduct of the affairs of the Government, and of those questions which peculiarly concern the North. There are twenty millions of people in our section of the country. Do we not owe it to ourselves to give some attention to its interests? Is there not something owing to you, who stand before me—to this great crowd—in the vigor of manhood, toiling to uphold the prosperity of the country. Why should not your interests be considered as well as matters which affect the Southern States of this Confederacy. What is it that hinders your progress? In the first place, you of the city of Pittsburgh have to pay too much interest for all the money you borrow. The manufacturer says he wants more tariff, because interest is higher here than it is abroad, and we must overcome that difficulty. That has always been looked upon as a strong argument. But what has been the result of Republican rule. We used to pay six or seven per cent. interest. But I think you will find that you pay eight or nine per cent. in Pittsburgh today. (A voice—"Yes, and ten.") It is because your Government is a borrower. It is because the credit of your Government is tainted in the markets throughout the world, for the reason that the people of the United States have to pay more than ten per cent. interest on the money which they borrow. This has carried the rates up for every business man all over the country. But this difficulty is greatly increased by the action of the Government. The rate of interest increases, the cost of manufacturing increases. Taxation is heavy; it costs the laborer more to live, and it costs more to carry on a prosperous business. In this way your high tariff is neutralized. Another difficulty under which you labor is that you have lost your rightful markets which the Almighty gave you when he ordered the Ohio to flow on to the Mississippi and the Mississippi to the Gulf of Mexico. It was intended from this point down that mighty stream there should be intercourse among the people. Why have not these markets been restored to you? Why are not the business interests of this great city put upon the best ground? I ask my Republican friends engaged in manufacturing how they can support a party that destroys their interests by sinking the credit of the nation and by taking away the markets which rightfully belong to him. This government could once borrow money, at five per cent. and you know that they now pay an interest which sometimes, in view of the premium on gold has amounted to ten per cent. If this is so, what force was there in the arguments you formally urged in favor of protection by tariffs because interest was so high? You said you wanted tariffs because it cost more here to live than elsewhere. When you sustained a policy that increased the cost of living on the part of your laborers, you have increased that evil, you want a market, and when you uphold a party which has been in power nearly four years after the war ended and who have not given us back our Union and have not restored our former relationships with the South, you aid a party that deprives you of your rightful market. Look into these questions during the week that remains to you to fairly consider your own interests in this election. You have been talking about the affairs of the South for four years, and is it too much to ask you to consider more the interests of your laboring men, your business men, and your manufacturers. By opposing the party in power you act injuriously upon your own interests rather than upon the interests of any other section of the country. Do you not owe it as a duty to yourselves, to your country and to the future to lay aside all passion and prejudice and look closely into the management of the party in power, as it affects the people of the North. I cannot, my friends, say all that I wish to say at this time. I stand before you as one who may be mistaken in his views, but who loves his country with his whole heart. (Great applause.) In the course of my long journey I have spoken with the purpose of advocating certain political views, but I trust I was animated by no unworthy passions or prejudices, and it gives me pleasure to say that when I have been brought in contact with my Republican friends, and when they have had it in their power to give me any facilities over the railroads or otherwise, they have been most cheerfully and most courteously rendered. If I had, when I started, undue prejudices, they have been wiped out of my mind. But more than all this, I have seen as I have never seen before, the greatness, the fertility, the magnitude of this land of ours. I have seen our great inland lakes stretch out their blue expanse of waters. I have followed the course of our magnificent system of rivers. I have traversed those plains of the West so wonderful in their fertility, and now I am brought here to-day to find land that teems with riches in the bowels of its hills, and that grows great and prosperous by the skill and enterprise of its citizens. My heart swells with pride in the contemplation of these things, and I could not allow myself, unless I was less than a man, to stand before audiences like this except as one who wished to serve you and to serve all his fellow-citizens. [Applause.] Why may we not have peace in this land? Why may we not have the Government of our fathers? Why may we not live together as brothers and aid each other in the distresses and difficulties growing out of the late war? Why can we not, in the spirit of those who went out to fight our battles, try to heal the wounds of the body politic? How was it with you who served your country on the battle-field? Do you remember the scenes of bloody strife; do you remember how your spirit fired up with the desire of maintaining the cause of the Union, and how, while the fight went on, you struck down those who stood in your pathway, but when the conflict ended and the smoke of battle rolled away, and you traversed the fields of blood and pain, did you see in that writhing form before you no other than a fellow-man who had friends, who loved him at home and who, though he wore a different uniform from yours, you were willing to kneel down and nurse as a brother? Why is it that statesmen cannot learn a lesson of magnanimity from those who fought the battles of our country? Go once more to those fields that were plowed with deadly shot and devastated by the ravages of war, and you will find the grass growing green and luxurious there, and the tender plant flourishing in beauty unharmed. The good God above has tanght us a lesson we should heed. He has taught us how he would wipe away the marks of deadly strife and rancor. Cannot those who govern our country heed this lesson; cannot we cherish in our hearts the beautiful flowers of charity; cannot we allow the wounds to be cured that now disfigure the body politic; cannot we once more, in the spirit of our fathers, rebuild our Union, formed by statesmen from all parts of this broad land. Why, men of Pennsylvania, it was in your own great commercial city of Philadelphia that George Washington, Jefferson, Rutger, Pinckney, Adams, Jay, and other great men North and South, when the Revolutionary War was done met for the purpose of forming the Government under which we live. Why not now, within the bounds of this great ancient State, so full of glorious memories, why not now say again, as you can say next week by your vote, that you will rescue and restore the Union of our Fathers? A change of a few thousands in the vast multitude of men who deposited their ballots a few days since, would give to this Union new life so that it would stand erect once more before the nations of the world. Our bonds would not sell in the markets of Europe at less than the bonds of the Turk, and our national credit would not be held in contempt in the markets of the world. Our government would no longer compete with the various men and mechanics who desire capital by saying to the money lender that it will pay a higher rate of interest for his money than any one else. They have dragged the Chief Magistrate of the nation before a tribunal which decided upon its verdict before it had heard the evidence. They have established a military despotism over some of the most ancient States of this confederacy. They have dragged men before military tribunals, depriving them of those rights which all our people regard as most sacred. They have indulged in unequal and oppressive legislation. I do ask you, my Republican friends, if these things have not paved the way for infinite difficulties. I ask you, upon reviewing the condition of your country and your business interests, if you are prepared to say that you endorse all that has been done and will encourage these men to go on as they have gone on during the past four years. Will you not rather give them a check that will stay them in their dangerous career? I have but one word more to say to you men of Pittsburgh. At the next election act like men. If your convictions are that we are wrong sustain the party that you deem to be right. If you think we are right let no power under Heaven stand in your way when you march up to give your verdict upon the acts of your rulers. When the day comes what power, or money, or influence, can turn you aside when you are about to exercise one of your highest privileges; when the day comes that the ballot does not honestly speak the wishes and the sentiments of the voters, then our liberties are about to perish. I must close these imperfect remarks. I have spoken over a great many States, to just such crowds as this. I have never seen you before, in all probability I shall never see you again. When I now bid you good bye, I bid you good bye for ever. It is a little thing to you or me, how this election may terminate, but it is a grave thing, so far as it tells upon the future of our country, that we at this time should do right and act according to our honest convictions. My friends, I now bid you good bye, and from my heart, without regard to your political views, I can say may God bless you in your persons and homes and so guide us all in our actions, as to uphold our Constitution, preserve our liberties, and keep unbroken this glorious Union forever and forever. (Tremendous cheering.)

And it won't do for two, Mr. Blair,
So I'll leave it to you, Mr. Blair;
And I'll climb down and stand on a stump.

—According to Prof. Baird, of the Smithsonian Institute, the strange fish recently caught in Eastport, Maine, is known to naturalists as the basking shark. It is very sluggish, and derives its name from resting on the surface of the water. It is not a man-eater, and is found more or less abundantly over the whole North Atlantic.

—This is the kind way Democrats speak of Union men: Judge Brien, of Nashville, says there is a regular partizanship between Brownlow and Col. Blackburn. Blackburn catches a thief or a murderer and sends word to Brownlow. The Governor then advertises a reward for the criminal's arrest, the State pays it, and the two precious rascals divide the spoils.

—If John A. Griswold, at present Republican candidate for Governor of New York, had not sent his monitor down to Hampton Roads when he did our whole fleet in that harbor would have been destroyed, but the New York World looks at it in a different light. It says "the failure of John A. Griswold to fulfill his Monitor contract lost us the capture of the rebel iron-clad Merrimac, which was planned and could have been easily effected any day while she lay in the Norfolk Navy Yard. But John A. Griswold was sixty days behind time in the completion of the Monitor." If we remember rightly the Monitor was still private property at the time she drove back the Merrimac.

New Poems.

The heavens are filling with the songs of our poets, some of the greatest having lately tuned their throats for our delectation. Longfellow has published his "New English Tragedies," and we are soon to have from across tha Atlantic a number of works which promise to make this an extraordinarily rich poetical season. We are promised from Lord Lytton (Bulwer) an original play of five acts called "The Rightful Heir," and a translation of the Odes and Epodes of Horace; from Robert Browning a new poem, to be published by Smith, Elder & Co., in four monthly volumes; Swinburne gives us a new poem, entitled "Bothwell;" from the pen of the Vicar of St. Michael and All Angels, Coventry, is announced "Autumn Memories and Other Verses;" W. W. Story, author of "Roba di Roma," makes another appearance, with a volume called Graffiti d'Italia," while Lewis Carrol is the writer of a volume to be published by MacMillan & Co., named "Phantasmagoria and Other Poems." It has become the custom to publish such works in the fall, in anticipation of the winter holidays; yet it seems to us that it would be more appropriate to literary as well as other song-birds to appear in the spring. We undoubtedly read true poetry with greater zest and so appreciate it better in the season of sunshine and flowers. Yet we presume our poets, or their publishers, will not be easily induced to change their practice in this regard. "The trade" seem disinclined to make more than one grand effort in the year, and have fixed the season of the winter holidays as the time for their greatest display.

A FREIGHT RAILROAD, to connect the depots of the different railroads centering in Boston, has recently been laid in the streets of that city. The rails, it is stated, are about four times the weight of those of the ordinary passenger street railways, and are eighteen feet in length each, and six inches in width. One-third more cross-ties are used in the construction of the track, and the string timbers are much stouter and heavier. The rail is somewhat different in shape from those of the passenger street lines, a deeper groove being required to take the flange of the car wheel. The flat surface on which the wheel travels is narrower, which affords a saving of friction and other advantages. The rails are laid at the side, not in the middle of the street, and the design is to draw three freight cars at a time, a team of six horses being used.

THE San Francisco Young Men's Christian Association has recently erected a hall for its own use at an expense of $75,000. The building, three stories high, with a sandstone front in the Venetian style, is 54 feet front and 120 feet deep. The first story is devoted to stores; the second to a lecture room that will accommodate 700 persons, library and reading room, ladies' parlor, a chess-room and ante-rooms; the third to a second lecture room, large committee rooms, six large chambers, capable of holding four beds each, intended for the accommodation of destitute young men, and a large bath-room. In the basement is a gymnasium and bowling alley.

Financial Matters in New York.

Gold Closed at 134¼@134⅛.

NEW YORK, October 28, 1868.

MONEY AND GOLD.

Money, during the forenoon, was a shade easier, viz: 7 per cent., currency, on Governments, but in the afternoon it became very stringent at 7 per cent., coin, and 1-32 commission on Governments, and 1-16@⅜ commission on large amounts followed. The Erie stocks returned, and the equal quantity of new stock certificates placed on the street, aggravated the stringency. The Assistant Treasurer redeemed about $2,000,000 of 3 per cent. certificates with legal tenders. After bank hours there was an easier feeling, and brokers, with the balances over, were lending them at 7 per cent. currency. It is reported that about three millions will be locked up tomorrow. Discount is almost suspended. Six banks are stated to be creditors at the clearing house to the aggregate amount of nearly four millions. The bank examiner is here and the street is full of rumors relative to his intentions. Sterling quiet, closing at 9¾. Gold opened at 134¼; declined to 134, and closed at 134¼@134½.

RIVER NEWS.

—Capt. W. W. Fenton, formely of the Silver Spray, will have charge of the Swallow in the New Orleans trade this season.

—Col. Jas. B. Eads died at St. Louis, on Sunday, aged 72. He was the father of Capt. Eads, who is the chief stockholder and manager of the enterprise for bridging the Mississippi River at St. Louis.

—The cargo of the bark Cotton bound for Liverpool with 2,000 bbls. petroleum, which burned at Cleveland, Ohio, Sunday night, was insured in Cincinnati offices for $25,000. The entire risk was distributed by the Merchants' and Manufacturers' office.

—Several steamers have lately been fined by reason of the clerks having neglected to attach revenue stamps to receipted freight bills. Clerks of steamers should bear in mind the necessity of thus stamping their freight bills, as the neglect renders the boat liable to a fine.

—Since the 1st of January there have been 132 steamboat disasters on the Western and Southern waters, of which 81 proved a total loss, viz: 61 by sinking, 1 by collision, 2 by explosion and 17 by fire; of the partial losses 34 were by sinking, 4 by fire, 2 by collision, 5 by storm, 6 by explosion.

—The Louisville Democrat, of Monday, says: The T. J. Pickett came in from above yesterday with a tow of coal. She was hard aground at Rising Sun, but worked off. The Economist—a kind of a half-breed, between a keel-boat and the Great Republic—left for Little Rock last evening. The St. Francis is rapidly approaching completion. She will be a beautiful boat when finished.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Enquirer of Tuesday: The stern-wheel steamer America was sold yesterday, by Capt. Adam Poe, Wm. Dean and others, of Pittsburgh, to the Big Sandy Packet Company, for $6,500. The America is a good boat of her class, about four years old, and certainly the cheapest boat that has been sold at our wharf for a long time. The America will be immediately placed in the Big Sandy trade to take the place of the larger boats during low water.

—The Cincinnati Commercial, of Tuesday, says: With moderate tunnage and lively offerings, freights yesterday were taken at the following rates: To the lower Ohio, above and to Evansville, 30c; below Evansville and to Cairo, 35c; Memphis, 40 to 50c; New Orleans, 50 to 60c, on heavy freight, and stoves and light freight per hundren 75c; whisky and oil $1,75; apples 75c; onions and potatoes 85c; pork $1,50, while plantation supplies are taken, as usual, at an advanced rate. Owing to a receding river, difficult navigation, and scant tunnage, a still further advance to all points may be anticipated.

MR. SEYMOUR, with his attendant mutes, is borne eastward this morning. Let the music play the Dead March in Saul!

THE Cincinnati Enquirer, the other day, recognized "strong evidences that the nomination of Mr. CHASE (in place of SEYMOUR) would be acceptable to the great mass of the Democratic party."

THE Democratic Probate Judge of Holmes county, Ohio, must be added to our Black List of naturalization-mills to be repudiated. Election-officers should not fail to remember this list and be governed accordingly.

HON. JOHN P. KENNEDY, Secretary of the Navy, under Mr. FILLMORE, having just returned from Europe, announces himself for GRANT and COLFAX. His example will have great weight with the old Democracy of Maryland and Virginia.

A LEADING Democratic journal, the National Intelligencer, reiterates daily the declaration that Mr. SEYMOUR'S nomination was only with the hope of saving New York to the Tammany politicians. He swings in a larger circle now, only to maintain the deception which relies upon him.

MR. SEYMOUR has often declared, and at Cleveland most distinctly, that both branches of Congress will be hopelessly against him, if elected. What, then, does he want? What good could he accomplish as President? Would he perpetuate the contemptible fiasco which has made ANDREW JOHNSON powerless for aught but mischievous obstructions to the will of the people?

WHEN WADE HAMPTON related the history of the Democratic platform, at the Charleston ratification meeting, he declared that victory would bring, among other blessings, the right to have "our rulers, as of old, intelligent, patriotic, native-born and white." And this declaration was known to how many of the Irish Democracy who howled about SEYMOUR last evening? It is none of our funeral.

O YES, MR. SEYMOUR, you say that as President, you could do nothing against a loyal Congress. That is exactly what the Southern rebels expect from you. You are to do nothing; let them alone and they can effect all that they desire. Such journals as the New Orleans Picayune and Charleston Mercury only ask that "the United States Government should stand aloof." They would soon establish pretended governments for their States which they know you would recognize when called upon. And thus all the peaceful part of the programme would be accomplished by your official sanction.

BLAIR PROTESTED, at New York on Monday last, that he had been arraigned "for simply declaring that if the reconstruction acts were in violation of the Constitution, they are null and void, and should be treated as such." That was a shuffle as cowardly as it was unavailing. What he did say in the BRODHEAD letter was this:

"We must restore the Constitution before we can restore the finances, and to do this we must have a President who will execute the will of the people by trampling into dust the usurpations of Congress known as the reconstruction acts."

There were no ifs or buts here; the case was adjudged and execution demanded, for which BLAIR himself was expressly chosen by the Convention as its instrument. Yet now, following SEYMOUR'S example, who is traversing the country arguing that black is white, and white black, BLAIR eats dirt by swallowing his own words. Truly they are a nice pair of statesmen!

THE COST OF FREEDOM.

For the long period of thirty or forty years the Richmond Whig, under various conductors, and espousing different principles as well as parties, has done its full share to create and maintain the political agitations that have existed in this country. Sometimes a champion of the right—at other times of the wrong—it has always been able and influential. Now, it declares of politics:

"The truth is, that we all, at the North and at the South, waste more of our time on this unprofitable subject than we bestow upon our leading industries; and we are drawn into it by the comparatively few men who make politics a trade. Statistics and economists have calculated with precision the annual losses in material wealth consequent upon floods, fires, convulsions of nature, accidents and various other causes; but we are not aware that any of them have estimated the much greater loss in America by reason of the almost universal waste of time in attention to politics. The subject is a large one, and we do not propose more than its simple suggestion. But we venture to say that at the South, in the last four years the loss has been frightful."

Viewed from one side, there is much truth in this aspect of the case. Viewed from the other side, the conclusion appears to be both mistaken and harmful.

Doubtless, there has been, and still is, at the North and at the South, a good deal of political discussion and ferment, which, considered by itself, apart from larger relations and consequences, must be pronounced not merely unavailing, but absolutely mischievous and detrimental. The ongoings of inanimate nature present analagous phenomena. The earthquake throbs which lately ran over the continent, shaking cities, destroying property, and consigning tens of thousands of men and women to premature and sudden deaths, considered separately from the great whole of which they are parts, can be regarded only as unmixed evils. But when their connections and uses are ascertained and defined, they are found to be indispensable and beneficial.

That a gradual development of political society can be traced through all the historic ages will readily be admitted by observers and students. But most of the notable ameliorations in civic institutions have not been wrought out by slow and peaceful processes. However imperceptible may be the commencement of movements, and however cautiously they may be conducted, there comes in the natural order of growth a time when the old forces take the alarm and grapple in a death struggle with the new powers. In the convulsions which ensue, wide-spread devastations and horrors happen; but when the violence has exhausted itself, and the field of observation clears up, it is manifest that ample compensations have been obtained for all the evils endured. Analyze the most startling instance that can be found in modern history, which is what is known as the Reign of Terror in France. The Old and the New were brought, face to face, into fiercest antagonism. It was not a contest between them for a divided empire, but to determine which should perish and which survive. All they who imagined that a settlement of gigantic national abuses, running through many centuries, was possible through instrumentalities that should hurt nobody, were confounded and overwhelmed by the carnage of the great controversy. Within so brief a space and territory, such an accumulation of enormities was never before witnessed. But when the slaughter ended, Feudalism had disappeared, never to be seen there again, and the Modern Era, with all its improvements and advantages, had dawned upon the French.

Antecedent to the Revolution of 1776 in this country, there was a period of earnest and searching discussion, in which the nature of government, the source of its authority, the extent of its demands, and the limitations of individual rights and responsibilities under it, were laid bare. But what was made logically manifest in this discussion was not established thereby. The rights of the colonists, as men and citizens, were not vindicated and secured by debate, but by warlike weapons on many battlefields.

Such has ever been the ordination of Nature, and such it will ever remain. Nations, the same as individuals, are made perfect through suffering, and rarely by any other means. Much as the late Rebellion cost, in money, in tears, in agony, and in blood, it will prove the most fruitful period of our national existence, provided the loyal masses are sufficiently clear-sighted to discriminate, in the rush of events, the True from the False, and sufficiently courageous to maintain at all hazards the Right against the Wrong.

There is another aspect of the case that must be considered. Freedom is always expensive to those who are fully resolved to possess and enjoy it. If a man, or an aggregation of men, are content to sink down into a servile condition, they will find the descent easy. A sort of malevolent gravitation gives impetus to their shameful inertia.

They who govern a nation, whether they be few or many, must take pains to discipline themselves, to comprehend what they are about, and to detect the character, scope and applicabilities of the elements with which they have to deal. It costs less to train the few for the duties of government, than to train the many. This argument of expense makes in favor of a despotism.

Doubtless the Presidential canvass in which the people of this nation are engaged entails an immense outlay of money, and of time, which is equivalent to cash. All the taxes imposed by national or state authority, and which the Democrats loudly declaim against, are literally as nothing compared with the assessments which the people of both political parties have voluntarily laid upon themselves in order to carry out the purposes of the organizations to which they respectively belong. These expenditures are unavoidable, unless the people are prepared to relinquish the right of self-government, and to take upon their necks a despotic yoke. These mass meetings are the Political Colleges of the People, where they learn the theory of government, and devise such policies of administration as their matured judgments shall approve. They are the Council Boards of the Masses, where they compare ideas with each other, submit various plans for mutual review, and make up the ultimate decision as to what shall or shall not be done.

Those men or organs of opinion that are devoted to what is ancient, not because it is good or applicable to the necessities of modern life, but simply because it is old, and has the stamp of precedent upon it, and that find, after all their efforts, the ground on which they stand constantly crumbling beneath them, are apt to conclude it is better to spare the expense, by adopting what appears to be the cheaper form of government, that by prescription. Especially is this tendency observable at the South, where comparison is always made with Slavery as the type of social and political organization which ought to prevail. Let the Democrats turn their faces never so obstinately to the past, and bewail never so earnestly those transformations, or, rather, those regenerations of national institutions, which they are powerless to resist, they cannot prevent movements which have their origin in the destiny of the human race, and which are essential to that higher plane of national life upon which the people of the United States are laboriously emerging.

THE DUTY OF DEMOCRATS.

[From the Pittsburgh Post, June 27, 1867.

THE DUTY OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY IN A CERTAIN EVENT.

"Suppose that * * * General Grant should be nominated for the Presidency by the Republican party, what course ought the Democratic party to pursue? Ought we to nominate a man in opposition to General Grant? Ought we to charge him with being an enemy to his country, or in favor of unjust measures, merely because he may have received said nomination? * * *

We are inclined to believe that more depends upon General Grant now, than upon any other individual in the United States. We believe him to be far superior to the majority of the far-sighted politicians, who have been ruling the nation without bringing peace or economy to our legislation. He is known to all the people as A STRAIGHTFORWARD MAN, and so far as can be judged a man well disposed to deal fairly with the people of all sections of the Union. Certainly if such a man were nominated by the Democratic party, we would advocate his election in the hope that his election would conduce to the public welfare. The question is, then, if he is nominated by the Republican party, whether we shall as a party oppose his election?

In the first place, if the people generally believe General Grant to be the man we think he is, no individual in the United States could command a corporal's guard against him—ON ANY PLEA WHATEVER. In the second place, it would be unjust and very injurious action for our Democratic leaders to attempt to place the Democratic party in a false position before the world, representing them as enemies or opponents of Gen. Grant.

* * * * * * * *

What better thing can we do in case of Gen. eral Grant's nomination by the Republican party than to VOTE FOR HIM FOR THE PRESIDENCY? Our aim should be to strengthen his hands; to render him as much as possible independent of party, and to ELECT HIM AS THE PRESIDENT OF THE PEOPLE. If unanimously, so much the better.

WE SOLEMNLY BELIEVE THAT IF THE PEOPLE GENERALLY OF THE UNITED STATES CAN COME TOGETHER WITH REAL UNANIMITY ON GENERAL GRANT, IN REGARD TO THE PRESIDENCY, IT WILL BE THE HAPPIEST THING FOR OUR COUNTRY THAT COULD POSSIBLY OCCUR. The future good effects of this course are almost incalculable. We earnestly urge our Democratic friends everywhere to consider this subject carefully."

HOW IT WAS DONE IN OHIO.

The annexed evidence, given before a United States Commissioner of Cleveland, on Monday, shows how one Democratic Congressman "gained" his election by himself running a naturalization-mill as Probate Judge. It is proper to add that this DICKINSON is himself now a victim of "Radical usurpations," under heavy bonds for trial for his offence. Read:

United States vs. McCarthy: Wm. Cokley, sworn—Know Pat'k M'Carthy; never knew John M'Carthy; can't write; don't remember particularly the paper shown me; told defendant it was the first time I ever voted, and that I got my full papers at Fremont; that they were giving out full papers there; got instructions that papers were being given out there; Mr. York told me so; also, a young man who came to work on the train told me so, and he was the one that set the work a going (witness could not give his name;) haven't seen York since his train was taken off the road; he was boss of a construction train and lives in Michigan; York said he was well acquainted with Judge Dickenson, and would give me a line to him; I went to Fremont and saw Mr. Dickenson in the Probate Court room; I had a line to one Richard Tobin, of Fremont, to take me to Judge Dickenson's office; York gave me the line; I called to see Tobin; he was not at home; then I went to Judge Dickenson's office, in the Court House, and found two men there; I waited until they got through for my turn; after they went out I told Judge Dickenson that I had a line for Tobin to bring me down to the office for my papers, but he was not at home; handed the note to Judge Dickenson that was addressed to Tobin; he read it, then tore it up, put it in his mouth and got down the paper he was going to give me; I saw Judge Dickenson write this paper, (one is shown the witness,) if that is the one I gave to Mr. Dickman, United States District Attorney; when I was arrested; Judge Dickenson asked me where I was born; told him I lived in Ashtabula and was born in Ireland; he asked me no further questions; no oath was administered; I gave him no papers except the Tobin note; never took out my first papers, and he never asked me about them; Richard Tobin saw me afterwards, and said parties need not come up, but send the list; I gave the names to Pollard; I did not pay Dickenson anything for my papers; I did not offer anything, nor did he ask for anything; when he handed me my papers he said, "That is all."

COFFEE POT WALLACE having issued a congratulatory address to the Pennsylvania Democrats, beginning "You have fought a good fight," the New York Post wonders why he did not continue in the apostolic language, "You have finished your course."

Messrs. Moffet and Reading, from the Third and Fifth Districts, cannot retain their seats after a legal scrutiny of the pretended vote for them. No certificate has yet been granted to Mr. Foster from the Twenty-first, nor has he the remotest chance of establishing, by competent evidence, his title to the seat which justly belongs to Mr. Covode.

WHO HOLD THE NOVEMBER ELECTION?

The question has arisen, which set of election officers will hold the November election in the city of Pittsburgh—those who held the election in October, or those who were elected on that day? The law authorizing the choice of election officers in this city, on the second Tuesday of October, is the same as the Philadelphia law, under which election-officers are chosen in that city, also on the same day. A judicial decision applying to that city, therefore, may be understood as applying in full force to ours; and we find in the new digest of the election laws the following ruling, on page 135, which may be safely regarded as settling the point that the election officers chosen in October, in this city, will hold the November election:

It has been ruled by the Court of Common Pleas, of Philadelphia county, that the offices of Inspector and Judges are annual offices, and, therefore, that the election officers elected in the city of Philadelphia, at the general election on the second Tuesday in October, are to hold the Presidential election in the same year, whilst in the county that election is to be held by the officers chosen on the third Friday of March.

HORATIO SEYMOUR returns to Deerfield a wiser and a sadder man. He deplores the delay which has so long deferred his acquisition of the exact knowledge as to the state of political sentiment in this State. He has learned, but unfortunately too late for service to his party, that the reports of Democratic depression and despair were not over-stated ten days ago; that the facts, as these have been presented to him during his tour, abundantly justified the wise men of the party in desiring his withdrawal, and that he could have safely given to their statement his prompt and hearty credence. Had he known on the 15th all that he has since learned from his own investigations, the wishes of the Democracy for his withdrawal would have been promptly acceded to. He feels, however, now that regrets are unavailing, and that it is too late to reconsider the matter. Otherwise, there can be little doubt that on his arrival in New York to-morrow he would tender his withdrawal to the Committee. Messrs. CHURCH and KERNAN, who accompany him as pall-bearers, no doubt concur in these regrets, and in the decision to accept a manifest fate with dignified decorum. Let the procession pass!

These parties were charged with having been connected with Teddy M'Carthy in the row at the saloon on Penn street, where officer M'Mullin was disabled. The case of the Commonwealth vs. Thos. Crogan, indicted for felonious assault was next called up. It is alleged that the defendant, in company with several others, on the morning of the 6th of October went into the clothing store of the prosecutor Gustave Grafner, at 27 Wylie street, and made an assault upon the prosecutor with a knife. The prosecuting witness was examined after which Court adjurned.

Democratic Meeting in Augusta, Ga.

AUGUSTA, Ga., October 27.—A Democratic meeting was held to-night and addressed by Judge Carleton, Democratic elector from Indiana, and B. H. Hill and General Wright, who urged the people to vote for Seymour and Blair. The Republicans say they will carry the State by a large majority, while the Democrats think they will have several thousand of a majority.

Prize Fight.

BOSTON, October 26.—It is reported that the prize fight between O'Baldwin and Wormald will take place to-morrow morning at the Isle of Shoals.

THE True Democrat, the leading Irish journal of New Jersey, has hauled down the names of Seymour and Blair, and run up the names of Grant and Colfax.

THERE are two thousand three hundred and twenty election districts in Pennsylvania (2,320), including two hundred and seventy-five (275) in the city of Philadelphia. A change of three votes in each of these districts will give us six thousand nine hundred and sixty (6,960 more ballots for Grant. Republicans, see to it! It is easily done, if you will only work individually and collectively.—Press.

A GENTLEMAN while recently visiting the Gettysburg battle field, remarked to the guide who accompanied him that the supporters of Seymour and Blair ought to come there. "Ah," said the guide, "they don't come here, they don't like it. I have not taken ten Democrats over this ground, except Southerners who have been here to look for their friends' grave. But of Republicans there have been many thousands."

COUNSEL FOR THE CARELESS.

The body is a machine, and carelessness in its management is as sure to lead to evil results as carelessness in the management of a steam engine. Yet the last thing that most people think of is the protection of this delicate piece of the Creator's handiwork from the subtle causes of disease by which it is surrounded. It is no easy thing to repair the system when in ruins; but there is no difficulty in fortifying it against many of the dangers to which it is exposed. Guard against nervous debility. At the first symptom of this fore-runner of more serious ailments, sustain the flagging energies of nature with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Take it regularly and persistently, until bodily vigor is thoroughly restored. It creates an appetite, promotes—or, it might as properly be said compels—the complete digestion of the food, regulates the secretive action of the liver, tones and invigorates the bowels, improves the condition of the blood, and gives firmness to the nerves. Upon a system thus strengthened and regulated in all its important functions, the fogs and exhalations of autumn, pregnant with the elements of intermittent fever, can make little or no impression. Whoever supposes that fever and ague is an unavoidable evil is egregiously mistaken. As effectually as a draught of cold air is shut out by the closing of a door, this complaint, and all disorders of a miasmatic type, may be prevented by the use of the BITTERS. When sickness can be avoided by a means so safe and simple, is it not the merest fatuity to neglect the proffered antidote? Regarded either as a preventive or a cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, intermittent fever, nervous disorders, general debility, or constipation of the bowels, this pure vegetable preparation stands alone.

DISEASED LUNGS.

There is no doubt whatever that diseases of the lungs, or ulcers of whatever sort, on any of the internal organs may be and are frequently cured, and a complete condition of health established. If the elaborative functions, of which the stomach is the primary and most important one, are restored to a condition to do the repairing of the human system, ulcers or sores, whether upon the lungs, the liver, the kidneys or the bowels, or upon the legs, as is frequently the case, can be made to heal, and a complete standard of health re-established.

We have frequently seen these results from the use of Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE, a pleasant and agreeable medicine, which will ripen up and carry out the animal economy all effete and used up material. Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE is enriched by some of the most valuable plants and herbs known to be useful and curative in all deteriorated states of the human blood, and whilst it adds to its plasma, it at the same time stimulates, gently but effectively, the skin, the kidneys, the liver and the glandular system to sufficient action to enable the body to take on healthful action and eradicate the disease. The sick and afflicted should bear in mind the virtues of this great medicine, and if those who are sufficiently alive to the importance of health, will resort to it in the beginning of a cough or cold, there would be no failing into declines and rapid consumption, so hopelessly incurable, and so most surely fatal. Let any one afflicted with any pulmonary disease try but one bottle, and they will be convinced of the value of Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure. Sold by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at Dr. KEYSER'S Great Medicine Store, 140 Wood St.

Grand Republican Torchlight Procession in San Francisco.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—The Republicans turned out to-night in full force in a torchlight procession, the largest ever witnessed in this city. It is estimated that between ten and twelve thousand people were in line. Delegations were present from Sacramento, San Jose and other interior towns. Great enthusiasm was manifested by the people along the route. Many residences and places of busines were illuminated and decorated with flags. The procession was four miles long, and was one hour and fifteen minutes in passing a given point.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

WHEREAS, On the 12th inst., and several succeeding days, Mr. Wm. F. Hood did publish in Pittsburgh papers a notice purporting to announce the dissolution of the co-partnership between himself and the subscriber, by my withdrawal; and whereas, said notice was published without my knowledge;

Now, therefore, it is due myself, Mr. Hood and the public that I signify, as I do hereby, my acquiescence in such dissolution.

Having received a very liberal offer from an eastern house, I am going East temporarily, with the confident expectation of returning very soon with means to cancel every claim against me, and hereby pledge myself not only to pay all I owe, but to show my appreciation of the generous leniency of my creditors by paying more than bank value of money for every month the claims have been or may be overdue. "MARGARET MERLYN," long talked of work. It is a tale of

IS THE TITLE OF

and abounds in the home truths for which the author is noted, and which are here interwoven with a dramatic interest, and that is unflagging to the end. An accomplished critic, who read it, says: "There is not a dull page in it." It gives startling revelations of the inside workings of private benevolent institutions, and must be deeply interesting to all who would like to know what sometimes is done with the money paid to charitable societies. It will be commenced as a serial

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, October 28, 1868.

Gold opened firm to-day at 134¼, and gradually advanced to 134½, with a good demand at these quotations by importers, and speculators to cover former contracts. Although the market might go lower in case the shipments of coin instead of exchange would be light, yet prudent operators take the safer course, and buy now while the market is certainly very low. The price of gold will further be vigorated by the price of bonds in Europe, which unexpectedly declined there in the face of a rise in French rentes, which have reached the highest quotation during Napoleon's reign—the price under Louis Phillip averaged 94. Bonds slightly improved to-day, under an easier money market, but the demand is still very light from investors, and speculators find it more profitable to handle Railroad securities.

In stocks the market was dull, with a better feeling; at the close of banking hours, however, there was a general improvement, and a material advance took place from 1¼ to 2 per cent. Erie firmer, and it is said that the very parties who were anxious to see it down to 125, are now buying with the intention to twist those who made short contracts on the presumption of lower quotations being made.

Fort Wayne, Cleveland, North Western shares and Reading are firm, and a sharp rally is expected by to-morrow, when money is supposed to go back to 7 per cent. in currency.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz: Gold, 134½; United States 1881s, 114⅝; Five Twenties, '62, 113; do '64s, 110⅞; do '65s, 111½; do new, 109⅞; do; '67s, 110¼; do '68s, 110½; Ten-Forties, 105½; Silver, 126; Ohio & Mississippi Certificates, 30⅞; Western Union Telegraph, 36⅛; New York Central, 125½; Erie, 40⅛; Reading, 98; Michigan Southern, 85¾; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 88; Chicago & Rock Island, 105½; Northern Western 91¼; do Preferred, 92; Fort Wayne & Chicago, 113¼; Merchants Union Express, 22½; Adams, 49¾; Pacific Mail, 233/4; Quicksilver, 23¾.

—Says the Chicago Tribune, of Tuesday: There was a full attendance on 'Change to-day, but a wofully sick set of markets—a general drop in grain, more extensive than has been witnessed for many months, and with not a single relieving feature. All the markets opened weak and lower, and declined to noon, wheat and oats came to a stand still, and subsequently improved, while all other markets kept their downward course. The reason of the decline was understood to be that the banks have been insisting on the necessity of shipments, and calling in the money borrowed by holders of grain. Hence, large quantities were thrown on the market, and as there was no inducement to buy for shipment at the prices last week, buyers naturally put down their views and sellers were obliged to follow suit. The recent drop has been so extensive that it will be a matter of surprise if some operators do not go down.

—Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co.: Gold, 134¼; United States Sixes, 1881's, 114⅞; 5-20's, 1862, 113; 5-20's, 1864, 110⅞; 5-20's, 1865, 111½; 10-40's, 105½; 5-20's, January and July, '65, 109⅞; 5-20's, January and July, '67 110¼; '68, 110½; June 7-30's, par less ¼; July 7-30's, do ¼; August 119; Sept., 119; Oct. 118½; Union Pacific Railroad, 102; Central, 103.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, October 28, 1868.

There seems to be a panicky feeling in commercial circles, under the influence of the advices both from New York and Chicago, and business, generally, is in a very unsatisfactory condition. The continued decline in Wheat, is producidg considerable feeling all over the country, and Wheat speculators, are having an exceedingly hard time of it, especially those who have been carrying considerable amounts for some time past No. 2 Spring is reported as having sold down to $1,11 in Chicago to-day, and it would suprise no one now, after what has already occurred, to see it go to the even dollar. The cause of the panic in Chicago is in consequence of the stringency in money matters, as the banks there are forcing holders of grain to sell, regardless of price. The great proportion of the capital of Chicago has been locked up in Grain for some time, and as the packing season is now at hand, the banks are bound to furnish the packers with money.

GROCERIES—There are no new characteristics in the grocery market worthy of special notice, with the exception that Coffees are a shade lower, in sympathy with the decline in gold, and Refined Sugars, too, have declined slightly. Other articles remain unchanged, and business is quiet and rather dull. We quote as follows:

SUGARS—Cuba, 12¾c for good grocery 12¾ to 13c for prime; and 14c for choice; Porto Rico—good, 13c; prime, 13½; choice, 14½ to 15c; Clarified Cuba, 14 to 14¼c. Refined—Standard Hard, 17c; A, 16c; B, 15¾c; Extra C, 15¼c; Sugar House, 10½ to 11.

SYRUPS—Lovering's $1,10; Silver Drips, $1,10; White Drips, $1,20; medium brands, 75 to 85c; common, 60 to 65c; Booth & Edgar Syrup, $1.

MOLASSES—New Orleans, 95 to $1,05; Cuba, 65 to 70c; Porto Rico, 75 to 90c.

SPICES—Cassia, 80 to 85c; Cloves 55c; Pepper, 38c; Allspice, 35c; Nutmegs, $1,50.

FISH—White Fish, $9,00. Lake Herring, $5,00; Mackerel No. 1, $22; No; 2, $18,00; No. 3, $13,50; in half barrels, 50c more.

APPLES—Continue to arrive freely, and the market is dull but unchanged; we continue to quote at $2,00 to $3,50 per bbl.

APPLE BUTTER—Very dull with a supply considerably in excess of the demand; we now quote at 75 in kegs, and 80 to 85 in crocks.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Is in better supply and a shade lower; cannot be quoted above $5,50 per cwt.

BUTTER—Is steady with a fair demand and regular sales at 30 to 35 for packed, and 38 to 40 for prime Roll.

EGGS—Scarce and with a continued good demand, the market may be quoted firm at 30c.

CRANBERRIES—None in market; may be quoted nominally at $16 to $17 per bbl.

CHESTNUTS—In good supply and unchanged at $6 per bushel.

CIDER—Is unchanged but steady; may be quoted at $6 to $8 per bbl, according to quality and size of barrel.

CHEESE—Market steady, with a good demand, and we quote Ohio Goshen at 19c; New York Goshen, 20c; Factory, 17½ to 18c; Hamburg, 16½ to 17c; Ohio Sweitzer, 20c; Limburg, 20c, and Western Reserve, 15½ to 16c.

POTATOES—Sales of Peach Blows and Neshannocks at 95 to $1 per bushel. Jersey Sweets, $5,50 per barrel. Baltimore do at $5.

ONIONS—Under the influence of increased receipts, are dull and lower; we now quote at $5 to $5,50 per bbl.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in steady demand at $2,50, and but little offering. Timothy Seed is dull, with occasional small sales at $3, and the same is true of Cloverseed at $8.

PROVISIONS — Market dull. Sales at 13¼ to 13¼c for Shoulders; 15¾ to 16c for Ribbed and Clear Sides; and 20 for Sugar Cured Hams. Prime kettle rendred Lard, 19¾c. Mess Pork, $30,50 to $31.

LARD OIL—Sales in a regular way at $1,25 for No. 2, and $1,50 for No. 1.

SALT—Is in better demand, but prices are unchanged at $1,75 by the car load, and $1,90 to $2, in store.

GRAIN—The grain market is completely demoralized, and there are no established prices. Winter Wheat, in the absence of sales, may be quoted nominally unchanged at $1,90. Corn is nominal at $1,10 to $1,12 for prime Yellow, and $1,07 to $1,08 for mixed. Rye is lower, and we now quote at $1,43 to $1,45 for prime Penna. Oats dull and in better supply, and it looks as if prices would be lower. Barley is pretty well flattened out, and while prices are lower, it is impossible to give accurate quotations.

WHISKY—Is in steady demand but unchanged; sales at $1,20 for Rectified, and $1,30 for Highwines.

FLOUR—Is dull and weak, with a drooping tendency. We quote from store Spring Wheat brands, $7,75 to $8, for good and $8,50 to $8,75 for choice. Winter Wheat Flour ranges from $9,50 to $10. Rye Flour $8,50. The Pearl Mill prices are for Extra Family in barrels $9,90 and in sacks $9 60 per barrel; Double Extra Family in barrels $10,40 and in sacks $10,10 per barrel. The Pittsburgh City Mills sell their brands at 10c per barrel under the Pearl Mill prices.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, October 28, 1868.

CRUDE.

The market was quiet again to-day, but two sales reported, and while the feeling did not appear to be quite as strong, prices are unchanged. There seems to be more difference made in regard to gravity than formerly, as we learn that within the past day or two, some few sales have been made at 12½, while at the same time 12c was regarded as the ruling quotation. The sales to-day were 1,000 bbls for October at 11¾c, and 650 do at 12c. As has been the case for some time, the demand is very light, being restricted mainly to supplying immediate wants, while it is equally true that the offerings are limited, the margin between here and Oil City being so exceedingly small, that dealers, generally, are not inclined to operate to any extent.

REFINED.

The market for Refined, opened considerably stronger this morning, advancing from 29¾ to 29¾, and then to 30. It stood at this for a time without finding sellers; a seller was found at 30, and then there were no buyers above 29¾. There was an offer for April to July 1869, inclusive at 30½, and all the year, 500 per month, is nominally unchanged at 31½ Antwerp has still further advanced being quoted at 53 francs, but this, so far as we could perceive, had but little influence here, excepting perhaps to make holders feel a little more comfortable.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

New Castle—Sharon—West Greenville—Jamestown—Stoneborough—Franklin and Dempseytown.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

DEMPSEYTOWN, Oct. 23, 1868.

MESSRS. EDITORS: Having concluded to take a trip through the northwestern part of the State, we packed our traps and took passage on the Pittsburgh and Erie Railroad, as it passed through New Brighton on the 20th inst. After leaving our own pleasant and thriving town and young rival over the Beaver river, Beaver Falls, the first place of any note through which we passed is New Castle, the county seat of Lawrence county. I had not seen this place for several years, but was gratified to see evidences of thrift. The town is much larger than it was, and some fine buildings have been erected. Lawrence county is comparatively a new county, but compares favorably with the adjoining counties, both as to fertility of soil and the intelligence of her people.

One of the most important facts in the history of this county is the unswerving loyalty of the masses of her population, as shown by her election returns.

The next point of some importance on the road is Sharon, Mercer county, a fine growing village. The vicinity is noted for its ore and coal mines. There are several furnaces in Sharon. It is quite a business place. There is a good country around it, devoted to farming and grazing. Some of the farmers are very wealthy. There has been quite an improvement in and about Sharon during the last six years. No doubt the railroad has had something to do with it, as is always the case.

Next we come to West Greenville. This is at once a beautiful and thr ving town, and has been for years the rival of Mercer, the county seat, being so much better situated for business, having both water and railroad advantages, while Mercer has neither. The country around Greenville is as fine as any in this part of the State, and the masses of the people are intelligent and loyal. The village, if we still call it such, has been greatly enlarged during the last five years. The Atlantic and Great Western Railroad and the Pittsburgh and Erie Railroad both pass through the outskirts of the town, one East and West, the other North and South.

A little while after leaving Greenville we stopped at Jamestown, the junction of the Franklin & Jamestown Railroad with the Pittsburgh & Erie. It is a small village, though there are some good buildings in it.

Here we changed cars, taking the Franklin road. The only place of note along this part of the road is Stoneborough, pleasantly situated on the south side of the beautiful Sandy Lake. This is indeed a pretty place. The object is to make it a summer resort for city folks. There is no better location for that purpose in Western Pennsylvania. I suppose the lake is about a mile long, and perhaps half a mile wide—a fine place for a fishing excursion, provided the fish are plenty, as I suppose they are. Then there is quite a forest around the lake, furnishing hunting grounds. The game consists of squirrels, quails, pheasants, &c.

After passing through Waterloo, a small village with a famous historic name, we are soon gliding slowly along the French Creek bluff, into the City of Franklin. Yes Franklin, almost as old as Pittsburgh, though for a long time no more than a mere country village—a county seat 'tis true—has at last become a city.

This place has every advantage and facility necessary to make a prosperous city. Situated at the mouth of French Creek, on the Allegheny river, it has splendid water power, and steamboat navigation spring and fall, besides four railroads coming in from different directions, the Atlantic and Great Western from the north, the Pittsburgh and Erie from the northwest, the Allegheny Valley from Pittsburgh, and the Oil Creek from the northeast. All they need is intelligent, Christian enterprise. Of this I conclude they have a fair share now, as I see fine new churches taking the places of old ones, splendid mercantile houses have taken the places of the old ones of a few years ago, and even the Court House, a good, substantial edince, must give place for a better one now erecting, worthy of the new city. Prosperity attend thee, thou City of the Hills!

At Franklin we were met by a friend with a two-horse carriage, who took us to Dempseytown, eight miles out from the city of the hills. This is a fine village, well located in the midst of a good farming community. A sad accident occurred here quite recently. While attempting to raise a spire on a new church in process of erection, the joists supporting the men and timbers broke, precipitating seventeen men to the ground floor, among the timbers, breaking legs, arms and ribs, and bruising them up generally. Fortunately, no one was killed, and it is hoped all will recover, though some are still on their backs nursing broken bones. Among the unfortunate were three of the writer's brothers. One of them had a leg broken in three places.

Politically, Venango county is all right, though there is too much so-called Democracy in this vicinity. S. F. C.

Flag Presentation.

One of the incidents of the late Grand Torchlight Procession, on Thursday evening last, was the presentation of a splendid silk flag to the Tanner Club of the old Fifth ward. It was the gift of the patriotic young ladies of the ward, made by their own fair hands, and presented by Miss Belle Scott in the following neat and appropriate remarks:

TANNERS: Doubtless you are aware that I am not accustomed to speaking in the open air, hence I request that order in its perfection shall prevail. We have gathered together this evening to witness how far the patriotism of loyal women extends, and although we are debarred the liberties of the ballot, yet we are susceptible of the same emotion that fires the breast of every truly loyal citizen. I would like to make some more emphatic demonstration than the presenting of our national colors; but no more appropriate token could I present, for around the American flag clings the most blessed of Heaven's boons, a boon which every true American should regard as sacred—and that is Liberty. Speaking for myself I can truly say that I reverence the American flag, which I account for upon the principle that I love my liberty; and the American flag is the emblem of all that is free. I know that patriotism burns in other hearts as well as mine, in evidence of which I refer to the late rebellion. When President Lincoln called for men, the women, too responded, not indeed with knapsacks and muskets, but in a way that made their power potent, and I am bold to assert that woman had proportionately as much influence in the victory of the North over the South, as those who fought and died for their country. Although we are not required to participate in the nursing of wounded soldiers, yet it is as necessary for the peace of our country to have organized companies of Tanners as organized companies of soldiers—soldiers won victories on the field of battle, Tanners perpetuate its fruits in our possession. And one of the surest ways of doing so is by electing General U. S. Grant President. Justice must and will prevail, and knowing that the Tanners are laboring in a just cause I feel assursd they cannot fail. I would like to be a Tanner for the time being; but being denied that glory, I still have the proud satisfaction of presenting to the Tanner Club of the old Fifth Ward, on behalf of their lady friends, our nation's emblem—the American flag, and may it prove the signal of victory and the open sesame to the land of success. May it for ever wave over the "home of the free and the land of the brave."

Wm. C. Moreland, Esq., received the flag on behalf of the Club in his usual happy manner.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Rooms of the Christian Association, No. 23 Fifth street.

New Gas Main.—A new gas main has been laid on Forty-fifth street, (St. Mary's avenue,) Seventeenth ward.

Open for Travel.—Diamond street is now open for travel. The laying of the Nicholson pavement was completed yesterday morning.

Personal.—Hon. E. M. Stanton occupied a seat with Judge McCandless, on the Bench of the Supreme Court yesterday morning.

Western Insurance Company.—The attention of the Stockholders of this Company is called to an election notice in to-day's paper.

The only things which the election excitement seems not to ruffle just now are our Public Schools, which are remarkably well attended.

Cleaning Up.—The cellar of the Duquesne Engine House is being cleaned, and will hereafter be used for a better purpose than the storage of rubbish.

Committed.—Alderman Morrow yesterday committed John Bradford for a hearing on Friday, on a charge of aggravated assault and battery preferred against him by officer W. A. Hoak.

Ho, for Sharpsburgh.—The Grant Skirmishers of the First ward, Allegheny, are requested to meet at Washington Hall at half-past six o'clock this evening, to attend the demonstration at Sharpsburgh.

House for Rent.—We would call the attention of any of our readers who may want to rent a good house in a beautiful location, to an advertisement in to-day's paper. There are few such chances offered.

Lecture.—Rev. Joseph Horner, A. M., of Sewickley, delivered a very interesting and instructive lecture on the subject of "Bubbles," before the students of the Western University, on Tuesday afternoon.

Fire Alarm.—The alarm of fire struck from box 63, corner of Penn and Twenty-sixth street, about noon yesterday, was caused by the burning of some straw on the porch of the Farmers Exchange, Twenty-seventh street. No damage was done.

Beat Her.—Mrs. Mary Hennon alleges that Mrs. Ann Green attacked her without provocation and beat and abused her in a shameful manner. The accused was arrested, and after a hearing before Alderman Taylor, was held to bail in the sum of $300 for his appearance at Court.

Murder at Butler.—It is stated that Mr. Jacob Shugart, a resident of Butler, died from the effects of poison, feloniously administered by his wife, on Tuesday of last week, and that the wife and her paramour, a man named Martin, have been arrested and committed to jail to answer the charge of murder.

Grant Hussars Burlesque Band.—The members of this band will meet promptly at half past six o'clock this evening in front of Hare's Hotel to proceed to Sharpsburg and participate in the torchlight procession. All persons wishing to join this mounted band can do so by being present at the time and place specified.

The Organ Concert at the Third Church.—We are informed that the tickets for the Organ Concert, which takes place at the Third Presbyterian Church, Sixth street, on Saturday evening, are nearly all disposed of. Only a few more are left, which can be obtained on application to the Organ Committee this morning.

Meeting in Mifflin Township.—A large and interesting meeting of the Republicans of Mifflin township was held at the house of David Colemon, in that township. The meeting was organized by calling John Cox to the chair, and appointing James Wilson Secretary. The meeting was ably addressed by Messrs. Glenn and Kerr.

Meeting at City Hall.—A mass meeting will be held at City Hall this evening, when the Hon. E. M. Stanton will address the citizens of this city on the political issues of the campaign. The hall will doubtless be filled to its utmost capacity, and those desiring seats should go early. The meeting will organize at a quarter past seven o'clock.

Alleged Feloneous Assault—James Porter made information yesterday morning before Alderman Strain, against James O'Brien for felonious assault and battery. The parties were in a row in a saloon on Liberty street, on the 5th instant, when the prosecutor was knocked senseless, and while lying on the floor was wounded with a knife in the hands, as he believes, of the defendant. O'Brien was arrested and held for a hearing on Friday.

Cross Suit.—We noticed yesterday that C. L. Allen had made information before Alderman McMasters against Fred Bolton for assault and battery and surety of the peace. Bolton has since lodged informations before the same magistrates against Allen and his son for assault and battery. The parties reside on Lumber street, Twelfth ward, and the difficulty arose out of some political difference, and Bolton alleges that the Allens, father and son, knocked him down and kicked him. Warrants issued.

More Rowdyism.—Another exhibition of rowdyism occurred yesterday morning about half past five o'clock, at the corner of High and Wylie streets. Three well known characters, Ed. O'Donnell, Jack Bradford and Bob McLaughlin, having probably been on a "lark" all the night previous, got into a row at the place named and aroused the entire neighborhood. Bradford and McLaughlin were the active participators in the affair, and it seems were pummelling each other in fine style, when they were foolishly interrupted by the police who arrested the entire party and took them to the lockup, where they remained until the Mayor opened his morning court, when a fine of ten dollars and cost was imposed upon each of them. McLaughlin paid the money, but the others were committed in default.

Meeting at Freeport.

The Republicans of Freeport and that vicinity held a grand mass meeting and torchlight procession in that town Tuesday evening. The meeting was one of the largest held in that locality during the campaign, and the enthusiasm was unbounded. A large number of clubs, properly equipped with caps, capes and torches, formed in line and paraded through the principal streets, the houses along which were gaily decorated and brilliantly illuminated. After the procession a mass meeting was organized, and Hon. Thomas Bigham being present was called upon and delivered an able address.

Pocket Picked—Professionals Arrested.

Mr. William Myers, a stranger in the city, while in the office at the St. Charles Hotel, yesterday, had his pocket picked of a pocket book containing one hundred and twenty dollars in greenbacks, and notes amounting to eight hundred dollars. He made the matter known at the Mayor's office, and the officers arrested two suspicious looking individuals at the hotel, but nothing was found upon them to show that they had any hand in the robbery. They were locked up however, and will probably be committed this morning on a charge of being professional thieves. One of them gave his name first as Charles Davis, but afterwards said it was Preston. The other refuses to give any name.

GRAND REPUBLICAN DEMONSTRATION AT NEW BRIGHTON.

The Torchlight Procession--The Allegheny County Delegation--The Decorations --Great Enthusiasm.

The Mass Convention and torchlight demonstration at New Brighton on Tuesday afternoon and night was the grandest political occasion ever known to Beaver, the loyal and steadfast sister county of old Allegheny. The afternoon convention was largely attended, there being delegations present from all parts of Beaver county, who were generously cared for and quartered by the citizens of New Brighton. Col. Leazure, of New Castle, and General J. B. Sweitzer, of Pittsburgh, delivered the speeches at the daylight meeting, and their remarks were listened to with marked attention. Grand and inspiriting as was the daylight turnout the demonstration of the evening far surpassed it in numbers and brilliancy. For several days previous, ample preparations had been made in that section of Beaver county to make the night parade such an one as would long serve to mark in the memories of the people the Grant and Colfax campaign, and neither pains nor expense were spared to effect that end. Invitations were extended to the Grant and Tanners clubs of these two cities to be present and participate, and the courtesy was acknowledged by an immense turnout of our boys, who contributed largely to the success of the occasion. The

ALLEGHENY COUNTY DELEGATION

Embraced the following companies:

Second Ward Pioneer Grant Club, two hundred men, under command of Capt. Thomas H. Phelps, headed by Fielding's popular drum corps.

Allegheny County Central Tanners Club, two hundred men, under command of Capt. W. M. Dalgleish, and headed by a brass band.

Grant Hussars, eighty-five men, under command of Capt. D. Dunseath. This delegation was accompanied by an original burlesque brass band, which excited merriment in all quarters.

The Sixth Ward Grant Club, one hundred men strong, under command of Capt. Foster Alward, and headed by the well known Iron City martial band.

The Fourth Ward Grant Club, one hundred and five men, under command of Capt. W. B. McClure, accompanied by the popular Bucktail martial band, and a burlesque squad of the Ku-Klux-Klan.

The Seventh and Eighth wards Marching Phalanx, under command of Capt. Samuel Kilgore, and headed by the splendid Heflick drum corps of those wards.

The Fourth Ward Allegheny Grant Battalion, 350 strong, under command of Capt. Alex. Callow, headed by the Fourth ward martial band.

The Fifth Ward Allegheny, seventy-five men in the ranks, headed by Capt. Loyal C. Graves, with Boswell's drum corps.

The First Ward Allegheny Grant Skirmishers, with Smith's Brass Band, one hundred strong, under command of Capt. W. D. Bois.

The Sewickley Tanner's Club, 25 strong, under command of Capt. B. C. Christy.

This large delegation took its departure on a special train of cars, some sixteen in number, provided at greatly reduced rates by the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad Company, and after a safe and pleasant ride, reached New Brighton at nine o'clock, where they were accorded a brilliant reception. Indeed, all along the route between Allegheny and New Brighton the train bearing the delegation was cheered, and at various places on both sides of the railroad track houses were brightly illuminated.

At New Brighton the line was formed on Broadway street, the right being given to the Allegheny county delegation. A slight fall of rain occurred as the procession started, but not enough to dampen the enthusiasm of those in the ranks or the hundreds of ladies and citizens who occupied the sidewalks and graced the windows on the route of procession. The rain soon ended, and the column moved towards Beaver Falls.

The Allegheny division, in charge of Colonel W. B. Cook, was followed by delegations from Harmony, New Castle, Beaver Falls, Rochester, Bridgewater, Beaver, Baden and Freedom.

The route followed was up Broadway to the bridge, crossing Beaver creek, and from thence to Beaver Falls city, where the column countermarched, recrossed the bridge to New Brighton, and then proceeded down Broadway, across the creek to Fallston, and thence to Sharon, Bridgewater and Rochester.

The right of the procession did not reach Rochester until midnight, when feeling tired from the unusually long march, the Allegheny County Delegation declined visiting Beaver, although at that beautiful town the preparations for a brilliant reception were perfectly gorgeous, and the loyal citizens were greatly disappointed that their town was given the go by.

Altogether the demonstration was very fine, and will have telling effect for Grant and Colfax next Tuesday.

THE DECORATIONS.

It would require more space than is at our disposal to note particularly the decorations along the line of procession. In mentioning a few of the more prominent which we noticed we feel that we will do some injustice to others whose houses and places of business escaped our attention. The elegant and massive residence of Mr. Milton Townsend was beautifully decorated with Chinese lanterns and national emblems. Hon. B. R. Bradford's residence was handsomely illuminated with lanterns and the whole front of the building was festooned with flags, while a fine photograph of Grant, surrounded by an appropriate motto, occupied the centre. The displays made by Capt. Winans, John Bosswell, Noble's drug store, Hoops' banking house, Edgar's dry goods store, George Barker, William Kennedy, Dr Winans and Robt. M'Gowan were exceedingly neat and tasteful. Mitchell's dry goods store was in a perfect blaze of light, and the Keystone Hotel was a grand centre of attraction. Dr. Stewart's residence was handsomely decorated, and his enterprising young son illustrated the subject of equality by having some five or six black and white rabbits happily occupying a glass cage in one of the windows. The Huron House was neatly trimmed out with large lanterns and flags, and the residence of J. W. Wilson was decorated with admirable good taste. Beaver Falls was also lighted up in good style. At Fallston the keg factory of Mr. M. Kennedy made a fine appearance. The most striking effect, however, was produced by huge bonfires kindled on the hill side above Fallston, on the ledge known as the "Alum Rocks." Three or four huge fires were kept burning during the entire evening, and the lurid flames lighted up the whole surrounding country.

The display made by Messrs. John W. S. Smith, Doncaster, Thornley, Darragle's machine shop, James Couches, William Henry, J. Dunlap, Dr. William Garrard and William Baker were very fine. From Fallston the residence of Edward Townsend, on the opposite bank of the river, looked beautiful, being in a blaze of light from lanterns and fire-works.

At Sharon the most conspicuous displays were made by Mrs. Dickey, S. A. Dickey, Mr. Finley and Mrs. Ray.

In Bridgewater the illumination was very general. The houses of Capt. James Darragh, Paul Witherow, Hiram Stowe, Robert Darragh, Hiram Strock and Robert Anderson were specially worthy of mention.

Beaver, perhaps, was the best and most generally illuminated town in the cluster. Neither pains nor expense was spared to afford a fitting reception to those in the ranks, but as we have before remarked, the route was abandoned before reaching the town. Amongst the more prominent displays in the way of illumination made were the two Seminaries, the Argus newspaper office, the residences of Col. S. B. and R. A. Wilson, Thomas McKinley, Dr. Atchison, Mrs. McCreery and ex-Sheriff Ledlie, Orr's grocery store and the Court House. The people waited patiently and kept their lamps burning brightly for the procession to arrive until about one o'clock, when the return of their own delegation confirmed their disappointment.

Alleged Murderer Arrested.

Harry Weaver, of Hagerstown, Maryland, who is charged with the murder of Andrew Rowland, was arrested near Alliance, Ohio, and brought to this city yesterday by Chief of Police Irwin and officer Gumbert. On the 22d inst. Chief Irwin received a dispatch from H. H. Keady, District Attorney at Hagerstown, stating that Weaver was in this neighborhood, and requesting his arrest and detention. The Chief having other business to attend to placed the matter in the hands of officer Gumbert, who is entitled to the credit of "working" the case to a successful issue. It was first ascertained that Weaver was acting as brakeman on the railroad between this city and Alliance, but before the officer could secure him he left the road. Officer Gumbert heard that Weaver was working near Union, which is a few miles west of Alliance, and Tuesday, accompanied by the Chief of Police, he repaired to that place, when he ascertained that the object of his search was working on a farm about four miles distant with William O'Brien. The officers procured a carriage and started for O'Brien's, where they arrived shortly after dark and found their man, whom they arrested, and placing him in irons started on their return, arriving here about three o'clock yesterday morning.

We have but little information relative to the murder with which he is charged, but so far as we can learn, Rowland died from the effects of poison, which it is supposed was administered by Weaver, who was working with him at the time. Weaver says that he left Hagerstown some three months since, and that Rowland died since he came away. He also states that he received a letter from his sister informing him that he was suspected of the murder and that there was a reward offered for his arrest.

He will be retained here until the authorities at Hagerstown are heard from.

Mass Meeting and Flag Presentation.

The Republicans of Chartiers township assembled en masse at the Headquarters of the Grant and Colfax Club of that township, on Tuesday evening, for the purpose of witnessing the presentation of a beautiful silk flag to the Club, the gift of five patriotic ladies of the township, Misses Hodson, Bradley, Nixon, Larimer and Robb.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Howard Hodson, on whose motion the following officers were chosen:

President—John M. Larimer, Esq.

Vice Presidents—Capt. Wm. Barnes, Walter Ferguson, David Jones, Adam Gonld, Sr., Capt. Andrew McCarty.

Secretaries—S. H. Lawson, J. D. Larimer, and Richard Hongton.

J. E. McKelvy, Esq., who had been selected to present the flag on behalf of the donors, was then introduced, and addressed the meeting in an eloquent and appropriate manner. He referred in the most eloquent terms to the noble part the loyal ladies of the North have acted in the suppression of the rebellion, and even now their hearts were still in the cause, and that they would remain true to the great principles involved in the struggle until their final consummation. In concluding his remarks he hoped that there would ever be strong hands and brave hearts in the future as in the past, to defend the beautiful emblem of liberty against all traitors at home and foes abroad.

W. S. Purviance, Esq., received the flag and replied on behalf of the Club, in an eloquent address.

The meeting was then addressed by Gen. William Blakely, and C. W. Robb, Esq., after which it was adjourned with three cheers for Grant, the nation's standard bearer.

Riot in Plum Township.

John, Sr., John, Jr., James and Thomas Powell, and Geo. Hausehann, all colored, had a hearing, on Tuesday afternoon, before Alderman Donaldson on a charge of riot, preferred against them by George Richards, of Plum township. The offense is said to have been committed on the 1st of last September, but the accused escaped arrest until Tuesday. It seems that the prosecutor, in company with some friends, was returning from a singing school, which had been held on the evening in question. In their journey homeward they had to pass the house occupied by the Powell family. There was an ill-feeling existing between the Powells and some of the male members of the Richards party, and when they got opposite to the house the inmates rushed out and attacked the prosecutor and his companions, beating the young men with clubs, stones, etc., and insulting the young ladies with very obscene language. This is Richard's story. John Powell, Sr., alleges on the other hand that some of Richard's party threw a stone at his house while passing, which aroused the anger of the inmates and caused the attack. He further institutes proceedings against George Richards, Nicholas Marks, Joseph Marks and others for riot. He alleges that about a week after the first difficulty they banded themselves together, and in retaliation stormed his house and played smash generally, by the use of stones, clubs and other missiles. The hearing in both cases was continued.

Bawdy House Charge.

Bridget Brightmore made information yesterday before Alderman McMasters against Mrs. Mary Johnson, residing on Wide alley, charging her with maintaining a bawdy house. The prosecutrix states that her husband has absented himself from his domestic hearth for three weeks past. She supposed him to be engaged on the railroad, according to his statement, but yesterday something impelled her to make an investigation into the cause of his prolonged absence, which resulted in the discovery of the delinquent at the house of Mrs. Johnson, acting as lord of the manor. Mrs. Brightmore further alleges that when she attempted to upbraid her matrimonial partner for his unfaithfulness she was attacked and severely beaten by Mrs. Johnson, who valiantly espoused his cause. Hence the information. The accused was arrested and held for a hearing on Friday.

Evening Silks, all shades. Bates & Bell's

The Friendship Ball.

Lovers of the art terpsichorean should bear in mind the grand annual ball of the Friendship Hose Company, which takes place at the Keystone Rink on Friday evening next. The affair is in the hands of gentlemen who well understand such matters, and who are determined, if possible, to make it a perfect success. All the arrangements have been made on a liberal scale, and it promises to be one of the most delightful and enjoyable affairs of the kind during the season. A slight evidence of the confidence which is imposed in its management, is manifested in the sale of tickets, six hundred of which have already been sold. Those of our readers who desire to spend an hour or so in tripping through the graceful mazes of the dance, keeping time to the regular cadences of inspiring music, should remember the time and place, and be in attendance.

Private Sale of Damaged Goods.—We would call the attention of our readers to an advertisement in to-day's paper of damaged goods for sale. The goods are mostly new, and some of them not much damaged and can be bought very cheap.

Pittsburgh Church Guild—Annual Meeting—Reports of Committees—Election of Officers.

The Pittsburgh Church Guild held its regular annual meeting last evening at the rooms, No. 265 Penn street, near Hand.

The meeting was called to order at eight o'clock, the President, J. H. Bailey, Esq., occupying the chair. In the absence of the Secretary, Prof. B. C. Jillson was chosen to fill that position pro tem.

R. Miller, Esq., presented a verbal report from the Finance Committee, which was accepted.

Mr. D. H. Williams, from the Committee on Branch Guilds, reported the organization of one branch at St. Peter's Church, which was in a flourishing condition. The report was accepted.

Mr. J. M. Knap, Esq., presented the report of the Committee on Reading Rooms. The report embraced a period of two years, dating back to the time of the first movement towards the establishment of the rooms. The Reading Committee in the fall of 1866, were authorized to procure rooms in a central portion of the city and to receive subscriptions for the maintenance of the same. They procured the apartments in the third story of the Pittsburgh Savings Bank, on Liberty street, and had them properly fitted up. The success which they had met with in procuring annual subscriptions encouraged their endeavor to raise funds for the endowment of the institution. For this purpose subscriptions were solicited during the winter, and $9,000 were secured. In March, 1867, an opportunity was offered for the purchase of the building which they at present occupy, No. 265 Penn street, for the sum of $14,000. After due consideration they purchased the building, paying $9,000, and giving security for the payment of the remainder in five equal annual payments. The first floor was rented for a physician's office, the second floor fitted up as a reading and committee room, and the third, prepared for the use of the evening classes under the auspices of the Educational Committee. In the fall of 1867 the Committee, for the purpose of paying off the indebtedness for the building, proposed to each annual subscriber a release from his engagement by the payment of four annual subscriptions in advance. The proposition met with favor, and the money realized in this way, added to that from new subscriptions and four hundred dollars borrowed, was sufficient to pay off the amount due, thus clearing the Guild almost free from debt. It has been found that the rent realized from the first story is sufficient to support the current expenses of the Reading Room, and make it a self-sustaining institution. The Committee are now endeavoring to establish a Library, and for this purpose solicit donations of books and pamphlets from all who can contribute.

The report was accepted and filed.

Prof. Jillson, from the Dispensary Committee, presented their report, giving an account of the establishment and operations of the Dispensary during the year. It was put in operation in February, 1868, and since that time nearly three hundred prescriptions have been given out. The medical staff consists of eight physicians, four of whom are consulting and four regular. The consulting physicians are Drs. A. Fleming, J. King, A. M. Pollock and M. O. Jones. Those in attendance regularly are Drs. S. N. Benham, F. Le. Moyne, W. Snively, and J. M'Cann, one of the regular physicians, is in attendance every day, except Sabbath, between the hours of three and four P. M., to give medical advice and prescribe free of charge to all who so desire. The attendance thus far has been sufficient to convince the committee of the need of such an institution, and the attendance will doubtless be greatly increased by the sickness generally following the inclemency of the winter season. A committee of ladies, also, are in attendance during certain days of the week to converse with the visitors and learn their condition, so that temporal and spiritual relief may be afforded to such as are needy. In this way several have been relieved, for whom otherwise medical aid would have been of no avail. The report was accepted and ordered to be filed.

Prof. Jillson, Chairman of the Educational Committee, read their report, showing the attendance at the various classes to be very encouraging and on the increase.

Rev. J. H. Eagar, from the Committee on Membership, reported satisfactory progress and asked to be continued, which was so ordered.

The election of officers and appointment of Committees, for the ensuing year, was next in order and resulted as follows:

President—J. M. Knap.

Vice President—Reuben Miller.

Recording and Corresponding Secretary—J. H. McElroy.

Treasurer—J. P. Henderson.

Committee on Finance—M. A. Woodward, J. G. Martin, F. B. Graham, J. W. Paul.

Committee on Branch Guilds—D. H. Williams, A. A. Kerfoot, H. L. Ringwalt.

Committee on Reading Rooms—J. M. Knap, M. Hay, J. H. Bailey, Reuben Miller.

Educational Committee—B. C. Jillson, R. Miller, Rev. J. H. Eagar, Rev. Mr. Hartman, J. M. Knap.

Dispensary Committee—B. C. Jillson, S. H. Harris, S. C. McCandless, Rev. J. Scarborough.

J. P. Henderson, Esq., presented the following receipts and expenditures since the organization of the Guild:

RECEIVED.		PAID.
Membership fees	$ 281 00	Cash	$ 34 72
Scholars fees	5 00	Expenses	1,729 45

During the present year thus far the receipts from all sources have been $5,543.50 over those of last year, and the expenses have been $5,500.50.

The report was accepted and ordered to be filed.

On motion of Mr. Williams, the reports were all referred to the Executive Committee for compilation and publication.

Difficulty with His Landlady.

Michael Dwyer was arrested yesterday and brought before Alderman Strain, charged with false pretence on oath of his landlady, Mrs. Mary Mulvehill. Mrs. Mulvehill stated that Dwyer obtained boarding from her to the amount of thirty-five dollars, he being sick at the time but promising to settle up as soon as he was able to work. Getting better, he failed to keep his promise, and hence the information. The matter was finally compromised by Dwyer paying half the bill and giving security for the payment of the remainder in a short time. Mrs. Mulvehill resides on Carson street, Ninth ward, and the defendant is employed at Wallace's Marble works on Liberty street.

Woman's Rights.

"We will renew the times of truth and justice,
Condensing in a fair, free commonwealth,
Not rash equality, but equal rights."
—Byron.

No question in American politics is more prominently put forward at this time for solution than that of female suffrage. Shall the ladies of this progressive nation be longer deprived of the franchise? Already the query, coming up as it does from no insignificant number of people, has forced itself upon the attention of our representatives in Congress, and it is whispered that some of the wisest, most gifted and able Senators are among the warmest advocates and supporters of the affirmative. Revolutions never go backward; if the right to vote is bestowed upon the ladies, they must likewise enjoy the high privilege of holding office, and more, shall be declared eligible to the highest position of honor, trust and profit within the gift of the people. We do not care to take either side of the question at this particular time, believing that our readers, especially our lady readers, are more interested in the extraordinary inducements offered at the great representative hat, cap and ladies' fur emporium of William Fleming, No. 139 Wood street, than in the problem of woman's rights. The wintry winds have swept down upon us, and forgetting everything but to provide for our bodily pleasure and comfort during the long season of snow and frost, we naturally turn to the subject of furs, and Fleming's extensive house is so closely allied to that topic that we know anything we write about it will be hailed with pleasure. Purchasers will there find an immense line of all the new and latest styles and novelties in ladies' furs, which are sold at prices ranging from fifteen to twenty-five per cent. less than those prevailing at other competing houses in the city. The superior advantages enjoyed by Mr. Fleming for the purchase of goods, arising from the immense patronage his establishment is favored, are shared with the purchasers in the way of cheap prices. Readers who have not yet made their purchases should at once call at Mr. Fleming's, as they will secure splendid selection and cheap prices. It is bad policy to wait for the season to advance before purchasing, as the stock generally gets scarce before the close and prices must necessarily advance. We can assure those of our readers who visit the great representative establishment that they will be courteously dealt with by accommodating and gentlemanly salesmen, who are guided by the inexorable rule of making no false representations to secure a sale.

Stained Glass.

Among the remarkable improvements in American manufactures nothing is more noteworthy than the great stride which has been made within the last few years in the business of staining and enameling glass. Up to a recent date the consumer has depended, in a large measure, upon the English manufacturer. As a matter of course, the carriage alone, leaving out the dealer's and manufacturer's profits, imposed a large tax on the consumer; sufficient, indeed, to justify the establishment of the business in our own country. Glass staining, however, to be conducted properly, should be combined with glass making. The glass stainer who depends upon the glass manufacturer for his material, is limited in his operations, and necessarily requires more time to complete his work. The manufacturer, on the other hand, has extraordinary facilities for staining and enameling unlimited quantities in a fraction of time required by the glass stainer. Page, Zellers & Duff, No. 8 Wood street, may be termed the pioneers of the new movement. They have demonstrated the fact that an article in every way equal to English stained glass can be made at rates favorable to the consumer. They are now prepared to fill orders for every style of plain white, chaste and elaborate designed stained and enameled glass, for public and private buildings, elegant transoms, side lights, transoms for business houses, with name of firm and number of street, &c. NEW YORK, July 1st, 1868.

DEAR SIR:—In your paper of last week you or one of your correspondents say that Dr. Drake is not the originator of the celebrated PLANTATION BITTERS, and that they were manufactured and sold by one Pedro Martelle, an old Spaniard, in the Island of St. Thomas, over forty years ago, as every old sea captain can testify. Now, sir, I can certify to the above as being true, for I have followed the sea for over forty years, most of the time doing business with the West Indies. These same Bitters, differently put up and named, were brought to my notice on my first trip to the Island of St. Croix for a cargo of rum, and for years and years after, my ship's stores were never without them. I always supplied my family and many of my neighbors with them, and can truly say a better Bitters and Tonic is not made in all the world.

Yours, truly,
THSTF. CAPT. HENRY WENTZ.

Changeable Goods, for suits. Bates & Bell's.

The Price paid for a handsome gold glass sign would almost pay for a beautiful stained or enameled sheet of glass of the same size, with the same amount of lettering. The one washes or wears off in two or three years, sometimes in a year or two, the other lasts for ages.

Page, Zellers & Duff, 8 Wood street, make durable transoms, side lights of all sizes, colors and designs, handsomely lettered and numbered.

Cloaking Cloths, fine assortment. Bates & Bell's.

Instead of Glaring or crude colored glass signs, which in a short time scale off, giving a ragged, straggling appearance to a store front that would otherwise appear handsome, we hope some day to see appropriately designed, durable stained glass. Nothing adds more to the appearance of an elegant front. Page, Zellers & Duff make any required pattern, with every variety of letters, plain or ornamental, to order on short notice.
